Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file consists of a short clip that explicitly depicts a European man ejaculating on the body and genital area of a young Asian woman. The question of whether the file promotes or supports, or tends to promote or support, the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes has been considered. The woman's age is difficult to determine but she is presented as a young adult. Therefore, the moving image file does not fulfil the above criteria. However, the material is intended for the purpose of sexual arousal and is likely to have a negative effect on the development of sexual behaviour and attitudes of young viewers.

The New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 has been considered in the application of the criteria of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993 to this publication. The classification places a limit on the freedom of expression, but the availability of the moving image file to children and young people is likely to be injurious to the public good. The classification is reasonable, demonstrably justifiable and the minimum required to avoid injury.
